WHO WE ARE

WHO WE ARE

We are an Australian niche design company that pride ourselves on building long-term partnerships with each and every customer. We enjoy getting to know our customers and their business needs. We believe in developing and delivering each customer brand with consistency and clarity at every stage of its life.

Dealing with a niche innovative design company means that there are no artificial boundaries or limits.

We believe in always providing proactive collaborative solutions and are always looking for new innovative ways to deliver even more effective, stronger, more efficient business solutions.

Our creative talent and cross industry experience enables us to source free flowing ideas & develop creative business solutions & outcomes that drive competitive differentiation & advantage.

We are passionate about seeing brands connect & leave a remarkable impression which is reflective in the high standard of work we deliver. Our commitment is displayed in our ongoing partnership with our customers.

Our small personalised team enables us to develop and deliver these business solutions for our customers on budget and on time every time.

OUR CLIENTS

RECOMMENDATIONS

RECOMMENDATIONS

Over the past 3 years we have consistently and increasingly used John's graphic design expertise in developing new innovative product/program style guides, promotional collateral & educational materials for healthcare professions & patients within oncology.

His ability to creatively deliver projects on-time and within budget has led to increasing competitive advantage in a highly competitive market where services & products are poorly differentiated.

Suella Boonzaier

Senior Product Manager
Urology/Oncology

We are very grateful to John for generously providing his time and graphic design talent in supporting Redkite, a national children's cancer charity. His great work in developing children's books will provide much needed support for children through their cancer journey.

John is fast, reliable and committed to his work. We very much look forward to working with him again.

Tania Baker

General Manager

Thank you John for your assistance in the development of the new brand style guide, prospectus and promotional collateral for Mercy Catholic College Chatswood. Your design expertise, knowledge and understanding of computer systems and print processes has enabled me to complete projects on time and on budget. The new prospectus with its contemporary format and styling has been well received by college staff and parents and has helped raise the profile of the College. Your creative abilities coupled with your can do attitude and quick turnaround sets you apart from others within the industry.
